

Articles

Lake Norman companies honored at Chamber gala

Bob McIntosh and Bill Ellison, representing Davidson-based McIntosh Law Firm, received the citizenship award at the Lake Norman Chamber of Commerce 25th annual awards dinner at The Havana Social Club in Cornelius Thursday night.

Abigail Jennings, president of Lake Norman Realty, was the winner of the business person of the year award. Jennings, president of the Cornelius-based firm, credited members of her team for their success during the recession. Other winners were Boatsman, Gilmore Wagner & Associates, entrepreneur of the year; Kevin Mahl of Champion Tire and Wheel, community service; Vickie Stevens, ambassador of the year; Angela Swett, distinguished service award; Midge Barna, volunteer of the year.

Wendy Moran, of Peoples Bank, is the new chairman of the Lake Norman Chamber, taking over from Jack Salzman, co-owner of Lake Norman Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram.

The principals of The McIntosh Law Firm, Bob McIntosh, far left, and Bill Ellison, second from right, received the Duke Energy Citizenship Award at the Chamber's annual dinner. Presenting the award were Jack Salzman, center left, chairman of the chamber, and Tim Gause, from Duke Energy

Abigail Jennings, president of the Cornelius-based firm, credited member of her team (pictured here) for their success during the recession.

Larry Wagner and Adam Boatsman received the Entrepreneur award. From left are: Lake Norman Chamber CEO Bill Russell, Wagner, Boatsman, 2012 Lake Norman Chamber President Jack Salzman and award presenter Susan Medlin

Community service award winner Kevin Mahl with wife Shelley

Ambassador of the year winner Vickie Stevens with presenter Joe Carbon

Lake Norman Chamber CEO Bill Russell, Distinguished Service award winner Angela Swett, 2012 Lake Norman Chamber President Jack Salzman

Lake Norman Chamber CEO Bill Russell, Volunteer of the Year Midge Barna, and 2012 Lake Norman Chamber President Jack Salzman

Incoming Lake Norman Chamber president Wendy Moran